WOMAN, 22 POSED AS A SCHOOLGIRL FOR SEX WITH TEEN LAD

By ZAC SIMMS

A WOMAN pretended to be a teenage girl in order to prey on lads for sex. Alyssa Ann Zinger, 22, was arrested for engaging in at least 30 sexual acts with at least one teen pupil and sending explicit videos to several more. Zinger was caught after taking one of the lads on a shoplifting spree.

Khan blasted over 'falling knife crime'

LONDON Mayor Sadiq Khan has been blasted by watchdogs for a false claim about falling knife crime.

The Mayor's office issued a press release in July claiming that "knife and gun crime, homicides and burglary have all fallen since 2016" when Khan took charge of City Hall.

The "incorrect" release was issued minutes before official Office for National Statistics data was published showing a 40 percent RISE in knife crime.

Ed Humpherson, director-general at the Office for Statistics Regulation, said his office was "engaging" with City Hall "to encourage" officials to correct the statement.

The row comes after a complaint was made about the press release, which contained quotes from Mr Khan and boasted that knife crime had fallen "as a result of the Mayor's relentless focus on tackling violent crime".

MPs back move to speed up compo

MPs have backed a move to speed up compensation for victims of the NHS infected blood scandal, delivering the PM his first Commons defeat.

Ministers will now have to set up a body to run the scheme within three months of a new bill becoming law.

The vote was passed by 246 votes to 242 after 22 Conservatives rebelled.

The Haemophilia Society said Rishi Sunak "should be ashamed" he had been forced "to do the right thing".

BOTTOM TWO: Marvin (above) and Nella

After irritating Nella gets the boot... NOW I'M A CELEB IS RACIST!

'I'm a Celebrity... Get Me Out of Here! has been rocked by a race row after the only two black contestants, Nella Rose and Marvin Humes, received the lowest votes from the public.

TikTok irritant Nella, 26, was the second celebrity to be eliminated from the jungle this year and was widely disliked by fans, but JLS's Marvin Humes, 38, has been a fan favourite throughout the latest series.

When the votes were being read out by hosts Ant and Dec, who were confused when Marvin and Nella were both in the bottom two and were quick to point out it was a race matter.

One person wrote on Twitter: "Nella and Marvin bottom two? In a camp that has public enemy number one Fred Sirieix and Nigel Farage? 'The UK is racist.'

Another wrote: "Marvin and Nella? What is wrong with the British public? Saw people call her an elephant and everything, these people need to take a look in the mirror and realise that Fred and Nigel have been horrible to most of the campers."

But other viewers have hit back and said: "It's not about race, it's about personality... Marvin is lovely but Nella is not."

Marvin is now in the top two campers with the highest odds of leaving the jungle show, alongside Fred Sirieix.

It comes after Fred, 51, was slammed by viewers for his "unbearable" and "misogynist" behaviour towards Josie Gibson's skills as camp chef - with him constantly berating the This Morning host's cooking skills.

Dowden: buy some candles and a wireless

HOUSEHOLDS should stock up on candles and battery-powered radios in case a catastrophe cripples digital gadgets, the Deputy Prime Minister has warned.

Oliver Dowden urged people to prepare for being thrown back to an "analogue" era if internet and power systems collapse.

Details will be set out on an official Government "resilience website", launching next year, which will offer advice on how to prepare for natural disasters, pandemics and malicious acts such as cyber attacks or terrorism.

Mr Dowden (above) suggested people had become too reliant on the internet which could leave them isolated in an information vacuum during a disaster.

"It always used to be the case that everyone would be able to access a battery-operated radio," he said.

"How many people have a communication device that isn't reliant on digital and electric? We shouldn't assume that the resilience we had as individuals when we were growing up is the same now, because society has digitised."

Brits braced for floods

THE Environment Agency has issued more than 60 flood warnings across England as heavy rain replaced snow amid a major weather concern.

At 6am on Tuesday, 69 flood warnings - where flooding is expected - were in place, mainly in Dorset, Somerset and across the Midlands.

There were a further 182 flood alerts, where flooding is considered possible.

The Met Office has issued a yellow warning for rain for the north east coast of England with a further warning for ice across the extreme north of Scotland - where temperatures dipped as low as -10C.

Cleverly claims new Rwanda deal WILL stop the boats...

PULL THE OTHER ONE!

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

HOME Secretary James Cleverly has arrived in Rwanda to sign ANOTHER treaty to help revive the Government's on-life-support asylum deal.

Mr Cleverly travelled to Rwanda's capital Kigali as Rishi Sunak bids to make the plan to send migrants to the African nation legally watertight after the Supreme Court's ruling against the policy.

Domestic legislation, which will be rushed through Parliament to assert Rwanda is a safe destination for asylum seekers who arrive in Britain, is also planned.

Mr Cleverly met his counterpart, Vincent Biruta, to sign the treaty and discuss key next steps on the so-called migration and economic development what we have set out to do together, with this new, internationally recognised treaty agreement.

"Rwanda cares deeply about the rights of refugees, and I look forward to meeting with counterparts to sign this agreement and further discuss how we work together to tackle the global challenge of illegal migration."

Meanwhile, Shadow Home Secretary Yvette Cooper said that the continued pursuit of the Rwanda plan is reflective of the UK Government's "chaotic approach" to migration.

She said: "Cleverly has gone with another chequebook to try and continue to pursue a failing policy which is still only likely to ever affect a few hundred people, while over 1,000 people arrived on small boats over the last week as they are failing to tackle criminal gangs."

Immigration minister Robert Jenrick said he is confident flights carrying asylum seekers will take off for Rwanda before the next general election, as he described illegal migrants as having "broken into" the UK.

He said: "The treaty the Home Secretary is going to sign will create a fundamentally different and better arrangement with the government of Rwanda that answers the concerns of the Supreme Court.

HOPEFUL: Jenrick

plenty of cloud in the south with lighter winds and some freezing fog overnight. Temperatures of 7C in London, 6C in Cardiff, 5C in Manchester, 6C in Belfast and 3C in Edinburgh.

OUTLOOK: Wet.

SELLAFIELD BOSSES BLAST HACK CLAIM

BOSSES at Sellafield have blasted claims from The Guardian newspaper that it was hacked by groups linked to Russia and China.

The paper had reported the nuclear site had been hacked and malware still may have been present.

They also reported that there had been a "cover up" by staff at the West Cumbria site.

A statement from Sellafield Ltd said: "We have no records or evidence to suggest that Sellafield Ltd networks have been successfully attacked by state-actors in the way described by The Guardian.

"Our monitoring systems are robust and we have a high degree of confidence that no such malware exists on our system.

"This was confirmed to The Guardian well in advance of publication, along with rebuttals to other inaccuracies in their reporting.

"We have asked them to provide evidence related to this alleged attack so we can investigate.

"They have failed to provide this.

"All of our systems and servers have multiple layers of protection.

"Critical networks are isolated from our general IT network, so an attack would not penetrate these."

TOM SLIPS GILLIAN HIS GIANT COCK!

NUDDY PAST:
Gillian in a previous role

TOM Daly grinned as he gave X-Files MILF Gillian Anderson his GIANT COCK!

But the gay diver's hubby Lance Black need not worry as the phallus Tom slipped to Gillian was made of WOOL.

Gilliam, 55, took to Instagram to share a selfie with crocheting fan Tom, 29, as she wore a jumper which Tom also made for her.

Both Gillian and Tom could be seen flashing broad smiles as they posed with the cock, with Gillian revealing she and Tom had raised £12k for mental health charity Mind while the actress has been working on Netflix comedy-drama series Sex Education.

American star Gillian even wore the jumper while appearing on the show as her character Jean Milburn.

She wrote on Insta: "Wanted to say a huge huge thank you to the darling @tomdaley for knitting this fantastic jumper (and crocheted willy) for me to wear for our final season of Sex Education!"

"Together we raised just over £12,000 for the Mind charity, which will be divided among eight local Minds who work with LGBTIQA+ communities."

LGBTIQA+ is what we must now call the gays and the lesbians. And the transnies.

Tom previously said he has an "obsession" with crocheting, creating a variety of items from jumpers to swimming trunks and saucy willy warmers.

Olympic star Tom joked he was releasing a line of the items last year as he marked April Fools' Day on social media.

He posted a series of images as he posed with the cheeky trunks and said they could be used to "keep your pecker perky".

Roo on run wallops cop

A COP was twatted in the face – by an escaped KANGAROO!

The lawman had grabbed the four-year-old fugitive roo by her tail in Oshawa, Canada, when he got whacked in the kisser.

She had escaped last Thursday while being transported to a zoo in Quebec.

The roo is now safe and cops confirmed they won't be pressing charges for the assault.

Kerry lets rip over climate change crisis

AMERICA'S top climate change boss added to greenhouse gases with a massive FART during a presentation about global warming.

John Kerry, the Biden Administration's climate envoy was discussing US policy on coal power plants at the Climate Change Conference in Dubai when he unleashed a burst of wind energy.

The former presidential candidate was speaking when a trump suddenly erupted mid-sentence.

"There shouldn't be any more coal-fired power plants in the world," Kerry began.

Before he could complete his thought, the crude sound of passing gas was heard over the microphone.

CNN's Becky Anderson quickly jerked her head aside and placed her hand to her mouth, possibly in the event of any stench permeating the panel.

Putin keeps his distance

Vladimir Putin blamed 'sanitary reasons' as he refused to stand within 70ft of Nigel Farage, Britain's new ambassador to Moscow at a diplomatic ceremony.

Putin appeared to hold out an olive branch to Britain, as he called for 'change for the better' in relations between Moscow and London.

But the Russian President stood at an awkward distance from the new 21 envoys in front of an enormous golden door with flags at either side of him.

ALEXANDRA DADDARIO

By HARPER HAYES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

TELLY bosses have had another go at making a TV adaptation of goth queen Anne Rice's novels.

Earlier this year, the Beeb screened an adaptation of Anne's Interview with the Vampire and now they've turned their attention to The Mayfair Witches.

The story is about a San Francisco surgeon – played by the divine Alexandra Daddario who discovered her real mum was a witch, played by Annabeth Gish, and she's descended from a very long line of cauldron-stirrers.

Gorgeous

Anne Rice's devoted fans reckon the series is a stinker and, to be fair, it's not the best thing on telly we've seen this year.

But the sight of gorgeous Alexandra is worth the entrance fee alone.

And it just so happens that we have Alexandra and Annabeth with their busters out.

Now there's a pair to cast a spell on your privates...

LOOSE WOMEN DENISE DID BIG POO IN BIG APPLE

NEW YORK SHITTY!

LOOSE Women star Denise Welch suffered from loose BOWELS – when she shat herself in New York.

The 65-year-old experienced the unfortunate mishap while in the Big Apple to watch her son Matty Healy's chart-topping band The 1975.

Asked about her most embarrassing moment by a left-wing newspaper, Denise revealed: "Shitting myself in

New York last November. I was wearing cream trousers. We were going to see my son Matty and his band, The 1975, at Madison Square Garden, and I was walking through the streets, enjoying the sunshine, pretending I was in some kind of video – throwing my hat into the New York sky like Mary Tyler Moore.

"I saw a couple of people turn and look at me. Now, although I'm not famous in New York, whenever Matty's there I get recognised as his mum, so I'm smiling.

"I went back to the hotel room and my husband said: 'Do you realise you've shat yourself?'

Tynemouth-born Denise – previously married to Auf Wiedersehen, Pet legend Tim Healy – also revealed details of her worst ever job (apart from the big job she did in her drawers).

She said: "I was a waitress at a holiday camp. On a Wednesday afternoon all the guys used to pee into the rice pudding and we had to serve it to the customers."

Taylor tries to beat off world leaders

TAYLOR Swift is going head-to-head with Vladimir Putin, China's despotic ruler Xi Jinping...and King Charles.

They're all on the shortlist for this year's Time Magazine Person of the Year.

The award names the individual or concept that most influenced the world in 2023.

Last year, it was Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky and the 'Spirit of Ukraine' that topped the rankings.

But in 2023, Vladimir Putin is judged to have had a greater influence on world affairs, going up against eight others.

Putin finds himself among movers and shakers from the worlds of politics, culture and technology.

The most influential of China's Xi Jinping, Hollywood strikers, Taylor Swift, OpenAI's Sam Altman, Barbie, King Charles III, Federal Reserve chairman Jerome Powell and Vladimir Putin will take the coveted gong.

Trans women must do bird in men's jails

SEX-SWAPS who have hurt or threatened women or girls will not be held in female prisons unless there are "exceptional" circumstances, new guidance states.

The Scottish Prison Service (SPS) policy follows a public outcry after a rapist was sent to a women's prison.

So-called "trans woman" Isla Bryson raped two women while known as a man called Adam.

The Scottish Tories said the new policy was "subjective" and "unacceptable".

The latest figures show 23 trans prisoners in Scotland from January to March this year.

They included 19 trans women (biological men), seven of whom were in a women's prison, and four trans men (biological women) – one of whom was in a male prison.

Porn legend Sophie dead aged 36

SUCH A KIND & BEAUTIFUL SOUL...AND SHE LOVED THE COCK

LEGENDS: Sophie made several films with Rebecca More

PORN fans are in mourning after the sad death of megaboobed Sophie Anderson aged just 36.

News of her passing was broken to the world by friend, and fellow "Cock Destroyer", Rebecca More.

Sophie began appearing in pornographic films for studios such as Fake Taxi and Evil Angel in 2017, later finding internet fame in October 2018 when she and MILF legend Rebecca, branded themselves "The Cock Destroyers".

Sophie and Rebecca would later become gay icons and appeared at numerous Gay Pride events.

She also worked as an escort and claimed to have slept with 80,000 people.

The cause of Bristol-born Sophie's death has not yet been revealed.

Sophie, who was known for her extreme body modification, had size 32J boobs.

Admirers

In March 2022, she was hospitalised after one of her left breast implants got infected with sepsis and later exploded.

She opened a GoFundMe to pay for her reconstruction surgery and raised over £10,000 from fans and admirers.

Confirming her passing to the public, Rebecca Moore wrote on her Instagram page: "I'm devastated hearing the awful news of Sophie's passing.

"We shared some amazing times together and that's how I'm going to remember her. The bubbly, funny, kind hearted soul who was outrageous on the outside but also so gentle behind closed doors.

"We were very close, and we shared a crazy time together that was totally unique to us. That's how I will remember her. This is so tragic but I know you are now at peace. I will always always love you and hold a special place in my heart."

Reacting to the news, fellow porn star Sienna Day wrote on Twitter: "Sophie Anderson, you were loved and adored by many. Funny, kind, sweet, an icon you shined your light on this industry, an advocate for joy and love. I hope you've found peace. See you again you'll live on..."

X-rated performer Tanya Tate added: "Aw such sad news RIP Sophie Anderson. Prayers go out to her family and close friends."

Thousands of fans took to social media to pay tribute.

One wrote: "Sophie was such a kind, beautiful and funny soul and yes, she LOVED the cock."

Just two weeks ago, Sophie's boyfriend and fellow performer Oliver Spedding died aged 34.

Spedding, known in the adult industry as Damian Oliver, was a prospect in Crystal Palace's academy as a teenager. He didn't make it in the professional game and after a stint in prison, he began his X-rated career.

Spedding met Sophie while on set, striking up a romance with her. Back in September, in what would prove to be a bizarre hoax, Spedding announced that Sophie had "died unfortunately," and provided details of her funeral.

However, the day after the cremation that never was, he tweeted a lengthy statement, revealing that he had "20 hours in a cell because of the stupid hoax".

He continued: "It was just a silly drunken joke."

He then dropped two bombshells, writing that he and Anderson were having a baby and that they had just got married in Las Vegas. "We are unbreakable," he added.

THE King is expected to make his first trip to Australia and New Zealand as monarch next year.

The Queen will accompany her husband on the trip in October.

A source in the Australian government said the trip had not been formally confirmed by Buckingham Palace, but would coincide with the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) in Samoa.

The summit, which takes place every two years and includes the 56 Commonwealth member nations, is scheduled to start on October 21, 2024.

The late Queen made 16 visits to Australia during her reign, each accompanied by the Duke of Edinburgh.

She first visited as monarch in 1954, having stopped in New Zealand en route, with the final one coming in October 2011.

The royal couple's final visit to New Zealand marked her Golden Jubilee in 2002.

Face scan to watch porn

PORN users could have their faces scanned to prove their age, with extra checks for baby-faced adults, guidance from Ofcom suggests.

The watchdog has set out a number of ways explicit sites could prevent children from viewing pornography.

Privacy campaigners have criticised the idea, warning of "catastrophic" consequences if data is leaked.

A large chunk of the UK population watch online pornography – nearly 14 million people – and one in five of those watch it during office hours.

But the ease of access to online pornography has also raised concerns that children are viewing explicit websites – with one in ten children seeing it by the age of nine.

The Online Safety Act requires social media and search engines to protect children from harmful content online.

Jen: I was drunk for sex scene

GORGEOUS Jennifer Lawrence has revealed she got PISSED before a sex scene with co-star Chris Pratt in the 2016 film Passengers.

The Hunger Games actress (above) said she had to "drink" to prepare for the "really bizarre" experience of her first ever simulated sex scene.

She admitted that she got "really, really drunk" before filming the intimate scene, to the point where she couldn't remember what really happened during it.

Jennifer said: "That led to more anxiety when I got home as I was like, 'What have I done? I don't know!'"

Adding to her guilt was the fact that Chris was married to Anna Faris at the time.

Jennifer confessed: "It was going to be my first time kissing a married man, and guilt is the worst feeling in your stomach. And I knew it was my job, but I couldn't tell my stomach that."

Jen has previously called intimate scenes "the most unsexy things in the world".

Med diet will boost sex life

NOW we know why the Eyesies are so randy...

The Mediterranean diet is officially great for your sex life.

The diet is defined by its lack of processed foods in favour of fresh vegetables, fruits and healthy fats like olive oil, while emphasising the consumption of lean protein such as fish and chicken.

Now a sex therapist and registered dietitian is saying the diet can boost your sex life as well.

Sex therapist Janis Roszler said the lifestyle choice might be the best diet option for improving sexual health issues.

"In order to have a healthy erection, you need good blood flow, and you need good nerve conduction," both of which are boosted by the Med diet, she explained.

She also explained that lack of sleep and stress are both "real libido killers".

SAUCY Candice Collyer has such a high sex drive she always carries a SEX TOY with her in her handbag. The babe told us her favourite bedroom aid is her pocket rocket vibrator, because it never fails to hit the spot. And lovely Candice, who's from Cheshunt, Herts, said the vibrating toy is small enough to take with her wherever she goes. The 34D babe said: "My best sex toy would have to be my pocket rocket. It's really tiny, so fits in my handbag. "It vibrates like crazy and does the trick in seconds, so I can make myself cum wherever I am. "It's especially useful as, when I'm working, it's usually away from home. "Playing with myself in hotels is very sexy, but it's just as good to have a screaming orgasm at home!"

WOMAN, 22 POSED AS A TEEN TO TOSS OFF SCHOOLBOY

CHARGED:
Alyssa
Zinger

A WOMAN pretended to be a 14-year-old homeschooled kid to prey on schoolboys for sex.

Alyssa Ann Zinger, 22, was arrested for engaging in at least 30 sexual acts with at least one student and sending explicit vids to several more.

"It is disturbing and unsettling to see an adult take advantage of a child and prey on them," Tampa, Florida police chief Lee Bercaw said.

"Anyone who may have been a victim of Zinger's, we encourage you to come forward. The Tampa Police Department will support you and ensure a predator like Zinger doesn't cause you or others additional harm."

Fake

Zinger crafted her fake persona and communicated with victims on social media platforms – mainly Snapchat.

Multiple victims, who attended Wilson Middle School in Tampa's Hyde Park neighbourhood, told police they believed Zinger was their age but was homeschooled.

"There are believed to be additional victims," Tampa police added.

The accused predator initiated a sexual relationship with one of the victims in May, which lasted through to September.

The victim, a boy aged 14, told police

By ZAC SIMMS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Zinger sent him explicit photos and videos, tossed him off and said that the pair had sex multiple times.

Another said Zinger sent a video to several lads through Snapchat depicting sexual intercourse.

Zinger admitted to one victim that she had engaged in sexual activities with other minors.

The accused and one of the children were caught shoplifting at a store in July, an arrest report states.

She tried to keep up her facade in front of her victim and told an officer she was born in 2009, a lie he was unable to verify.

The officer confirmed the only other Alyssa Ann Zinger he could find information on was born in 2001.

In a desperate attempt at deception, Zinger claimed she had a half-sister with the same name.

Police had been investigating Zinger for about a year.

The officer later dispelled her lies by requesting government, school and employment records, all of which confirmed she was an adult.

Zinger was charged with two counts of lewd and lascivious battery, and five of lewd or lascivious molestation.

She is currently out on bail.

Survey unwraps
Xmas party flings

A THIRD of workers are tempted to cheat on their partners at Christmas parties, and almost two in 10 actually do, a new survey shows.

Search engine Spokeo polled 1,158 adults about infidelity in the run-up to Xmas party season and found 35% had been tempted to cheat at the office Christmas bash, while 17% admitted to having a festive fling.

The salacious stats didn't surprise therapists, who said people tend to form intimate bonds with colleagues under workplace stress.

"A lot of people bank more hours at the office than with their spouse, and there's all kinds of intimacy builds up," an unnamed therapist said.

MISSING 'LENNON' FOUND DOWN WELL

A JOHN Lennon impersonator who went missing in September has been found dead at the bottom of a well in his own garden.

The body of Keith McKechnie, 45, was found by a family friend inside a well near his home in Avon, Massachusetts.

McKechnie's mother, Karryl, said that pals had lowered a camera down the well on a fishing line and found the body.

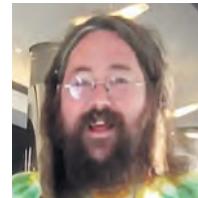

Emergency crews were later tasked with extracting it from the well.

There were no signs of trauma on the body, and an autopsy showed no signs of foul play.

Karryl said: "He left his driver's licence and Medicare card and everything."

"And I checked his bank account every week to see if he was taking money out of it, and he wasn't."

McKechnie's relatives said they asked police to search the well several times after Keith's glasses were found nearby.

Mum loses legs in pit bull attack

A MUM almost died after three pit bulls ate her LEGS.

The dogs pounced on Brittany Skoland (above) outside her home in Fort Dodge, near Des Moines, Iowa.

Police were called after a neighbour heard Brittany "yelling for help".

Chief Dennis Quinn said in a statement: "An officer at the scene tried to scare the dogs away to stop them from attacking the woman, but the animals would not stop."

With no other option, the armed officer opened fire at the dogs, killing all three.

The victim was rushed to a nearby hospital, but her injuries were so bad she had to be airlifted to the Iowa Methodist Medical Centre in Des Moines.

A family member later confirmed that Brittany had both legs amputated to her knees and parts of her hands and she will need facial reconstruction surgery.

Babes show off their fancy footwear

ALEXA GRACE,

By FIONA CLARKE news@sundaysport.co.uk

GUESS how many letters and emails we get from foot fetish fans every week...

LOADS, that's how many.

And just recently there has been a flood of requests for topless ladies wearing fancy shoes. Well, anything to oblige our army of randy readers – especially as today is National Put Your Shoes on Day!

Quite why there has to be a 'day' to promote something we all do every time we step outdoors is anyone's guess. But, hey-ho.

Anyway, enjoy these busty babes and their sexy footwear...

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I want to put on a hot show in a hot tub!'

...WITH LUCIE WILDE,
34, FROM
BRIGHTON

MY favourite sexual fantasy is getting down and dirty in a hot tub.

Last year I stayed in a log cabin in the Lake District with my then boyfriend and we had the best weekend of sex ever.

It was a cold November and the tub was so steamy as the heat met the cold air.

I was wearing a barely there bikini, the Prosecco was flowing and one thing led to another.

The powerful jets were blasting my lady bits and it made me feel incredibly horny, like 'Take me now!'

My fella pointed out that the hot tub wasn't completely private and the people in the neighbouring hot tub would be able to see us.

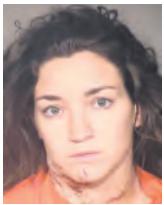

But I was just so turned on I couldn't help it. I whipped my bikini top off; my nipples were so hard.

I rode him and he was clearly loving seeing my boobs bounce up and down as he tried to suck my nipples.

Then he went all manly and took control, lifting me up to take me doggy style over the edge of the tub.

I thought about people watching us shagging and the idea made me climax even harder than usual! I'm definitely an exhibitionist!

Girl stabbed lover after bong smoke

A WOMAN has been convicted of manslaughter after she stabbed her boyfriend more than 100 times during a weed-induced psychosis.

Brynn Spejcher, 32 (above) was found guilty of killing her partner Chad O'Melia.

The couple had only been together for a few weeks when Spejcher attacked O'Melia after she took two hits from his cannabis bong — a pipe device used for smoking marijuana — in May 2018.

Spejcher then went into a psychotic episode and stabbed her new boyfriend 108 times, eventually killing the 26-year-old.

She also stabbed herself repeatedly.

Officers arrived at O'Melia's residence in Thousand Oaks, California, the next morning to find Spejcher screaming hysterically next to her boyfriend's blood-soaked body, still holding a knife.

Spejcher, who also stabbed her dog during the rampage, told cops she heard sinister-like voices in her head just before the attack.

Chopsticks led to headaches

A MAN who experienced severe headaches for five months was flabbergasted after discovering that he had a pair of chopsticks lodged in his skull.

The unnamed patient went off to the Cuba Friendship Hospital in Dong Hoi, Vietnam, after suffering headaches as well as fluid discharge and fluid loss.

An examination showed a pair of chopsticks had penetrated the 35-year-old's nose and into his brain.

Dr. Nguyen Van Man, head of the Department of Neurosurgery, called the case "very rare".

The patient recalled that he'd been involved in a fight five months earlier while out drinking, during which he was "stabbed in the face with something".

Doctors were able to remove the chopsticks via endoscopic surgery through the nose.

The patient is in stable condition, awaiting discharge from hospital.

17 YEARS' JAIL FOR KILLING OAP IN BOOZY CAR WRECK

PORN STAR WRESTLER CAGED FOR DEATH SMASH

BANGED UP:
Tammy wrestled and made porn films before she killed OAP in car smash last year

ARREST PIC: Sytch

By KIT JACKSON

news.sundaysport.co.uk

A WWE legend-turned-porn star has been jailed for 17 years for her involvement in a car accident that killed a pensioner.

It comes three months after Tammy Sytch pleaded no contest to charges against her — including one count of drink-driving causing death.

Sytch, 50 — also known as WWE Hall of Famer Sunny — was driving her motor in March 2022 when she crashed into a vehicle being driven by Julian Lassiter, 75, and who had stopped at a red light near Ormond Beach, Florida.

Poole said Tammy's blood alcohol level was more than three times the legal limit. She has been behind bars since March last year.

Sytch was handed a 10-and-a-half-year sentence for driving with a suspended licence causing death and another seven years for drink-driving manslaughter.

She must also serve eight years' probation and her driving licence has been permanently revoked.

At court, in Volusia County, Tammy told the victim's family: "I know my words are not enough but please know that I think about you every day."

"I have done something horrible, but I am so much more than the worst that I have done."

"I try and think about the good I have done because when I sit alone and think about what I did to your family that tragic day, from a stupid decision, I feel the regret and remorse deep inside my soul."

Sytch was in WWE for four years from 1994-98 and later worked as a see-it-going in porn star, appearing in 2016 adult film Sunny Side Up.

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Bah, humbug... let's cancel Christmas!

AND lo, the festive season is upon us.

More's the bloody pity. The lights are already going up, and – as usual – they are far, far too early. Christmas trees twinkle like murky flashers in living room windows.

The shops went bonkers the very moment Halloween was over.

And the radio stations, if you're still mad enough to listen to them, will nevertheless render us further insane with non-stop Noddy Holder and George Michael, and that Irish bloke with no teeth who died last week.

The supermarkets are now clogged with fat old people with ludicrously overstocked trolleys.

There is no point even attempting the chocolate aisle until January.

Your social media will be smothered in festive photos – the kids' pyjamas, the pile of prezzy, the black and white tree, the reindeer on the roof, the carefully-filtered pic of a glass of Chrimbo brandy.

This year, no doubt, there will be decorations in the colours of the Palestinian flag, too.

Little Commie Johnny and his sister, also now called Little Commie Johnny, having decided that her/him/itself at the highly mature age of four, will sit excitedly waiting to receive their Little Red Books from Chairman Mao on Christmas morning.

Food will be aplenty.

But forget all that Enid Blyton nonsense about hearty roasts, thundering, tumbling roast potatoes, rich gravy, piping hot carrots and turnip, or the sweet snap of a parsnip.

No, embrace the tofu squares, the meat-free chipolatas, the non-dairy cream, the gluten-free mash, the dessert made entirely of stick insects and cockroaches.

Piss

Wash it all down with a pint of alcohol-free wasp piss and then settle in front of the telly to enjoy the BBC's Doctor Who special all about how transsexuals actually invented Christmas in the first place.

Of course, if the Doctor is not your chosen self-afflicted pain, telly even more worthy will be on BBC2.

David Attenborough describing how all trees eventually get turned into coffins, or something equally cheerful.

On BBC3 it'll be the much-needed,

SCROOGE YOU!
Michael Caine
in festive flick

much-demanded Queer Christmas, dovetailing BBC4's Black Christmas, which will be broadcast concurrently alongside BBC Radio 5 Live's recreation of an Afghan nativity.

The nearest you will get to an actual Christmas movie will be Die Hard, which itself will merely set off the same tedious, excruciatingly dull annual debate over whether it even counts as one.

No, you don't need another wallet. No, you don't even like turkey.

Arsed

And absolutely, 100 percent no to the idea of everyone suddenly descending on you as though they were ever arsed during the rest of the year.

Can't we just cancel Christmas for good and stick to simply celebrating our birthdays instead?

Because at least that way the only thing we have to complain about is being older.

Christmas is rubbish because it's the same old shit every year, only worse.

Anything good was strangled out of it years ago.

The day someone in a hi-vis council jacket dreamed up "Winterval" was the death knell for this stupid, pointless celebration of nothing at all.

And I can't even say: "Bah, humbug!" because even they taste like old tramp shoes.

IT'S not been the most fun year in history – with war, energy price hikes, strikes and cost-of-living crisis all taking their toll on us.

And sadly, it's all set to continue into 2024.

But there's one way of making sure the next 12 months will be much more fun...

Get our 2024 topless calendar!

Every month features one of your favourite glamour girls FULLY TOPLESS, which means a whole year of gazing at the most beautiful models in the world.

It costs just £16.99, including FREE postage and packaging to the UK!

To get your hands on the calendar all you have to do is grab a credit or debit card and ring us on 0800 472 5407 – which is free to call – and someone will take your details.

If no-one is available, please leave a message with your name and phone number and someone will get back to you.

Or if you have access to the internet you can go online at www.sundaysportshop.co.uk and buy it there.

And act quickly, because there is only a limited supply of 2024 calendars and once they're gone, they're gone.

We're at the mercy of postal strikes, but if you get your order to us by Friday 8 December, you should receive it by Christmas.

Drunk groom shoots dead 4 at wedding

A GROOM went on a drunken shooting rampage at his own wedding, killing his bride and three guests before turning the gun on himself.

Chaturong Suksuk, 29, an ex-soldier, wed 44-year-old Kanchana Pachunthuek in the Wang Nam Khao district in Thailand.

At the height of the festivities that night, Suksuk abruptly left the reception and went out to his car. He came back a short time later brandishing a 9mm pistol and opened fire, shooting and killing his new wife, her mother and her sister.

Two wedding guests were also hit by stray bullets, killing a 50-year-old man and leaving a 28-year-old man wounded.

Chaturong then shot himself dead at the scene.

The groom was said to be "quite intoxicated at the time" of the bloodbath, according to police, but a motive for the shooting was not immediately known.

Wedding guests said the newlyweds had rowed during the reception.

90s folk have worst ever mental health

MILLENNIALS are mad – and that's OFFICIAL!

People born in the 1990s, many of whom are in the vanguard of barmy woke and climate crazes, have the worst mental health of any generation before them.

Researchers at the University of Sydney found that there has been a noticeable deterioration in the mental welfare of each successive generation since the 50s.

The results indicate that "mental health challenges" not only affect younger generations more seriously but are impacting each generation that is inching toward old age, according to the study published in The Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

A lead researcher said: "We are not seeing the rebound out of young adulthood that previous generations saw as they aged."

EIGHTIES POP STAR SPEAKS ABOUT THAT NUDE SHOOT...

WHY I LOVED SHOWING MY TIF-FANNY!

By JOHN WILSON news@sundaysport.co.uk

EIGHTIES pop sensation Tiffany caused a storm after shedding her squeaky-clean image to pose for Playboy back in 2002.

Now, more than two decades on, the I Think We're Alone Now singer is recalling the nuddy shoot, saying she has no regrets.

Now 52, the star – whose full name is Tiffany Darwish, gushed about the naughty nude photo shoot: "I love it still... I thought it was a great thing I did. People were like, 'She's a one-hit wonder. She's that little mall girl'. And that just completely blew their perception of who I was."

"It was an honour Playboy asked me to pose and I was very happy with the shoot." She also noted how the crew made her "feel amazing on set".

Tiffany added: "I showed up that day and there was nothing awkward about it... I saw the photos and they looked beautiful."

The Celebrity Fit Club star also revealed that she dieted before the photo shoot to make sure that she felt amazing in her own skin.

Fondly

She said: "I was in really good shape. So I will always look at that experience fondly."

"And I think it changed my audience for sure," Tiffany explained, adding that she always had a female fan base.

However, when her Playboy cover hit the shops, her male fan base grew exponentially.

"And they stayed! They could have just followed me because of Playboy. But I converted them to actual music fans," she laughed.

Tiffany is back in the spotlight thanks to Ladies of the 80s, which stars icons Loni Anderson, Morgan Fairchild, Linda Gray, Donna Mills and Nicollette Sheridan.

The flick features the five women as they "reunite to share the spotlight to shoot the final Christmas episode of their long-running soap".

Tiffany added: "I grew up watching so many of them on TV, so it's been a lot of fun for me to do this."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

I'M a 45-year-old woman and I love being shagged by younger guys. I recently got divorced so a friend took me out to a nightclub where I pulled an 18-year-old hunk.

I got him in a quiet corner out of sight, slipped out of my panties, straddled him and then rode his mighty weapon until he exploded inside me.

He didn't last very long, so I went on the prowl. I got chatted up by a few fellas but this tall bald fella took my eye.

I took him back to mine and he was soon pumping me fast and hard from behind. Then he slipped his cock into my bum and I screamed with pleasure when he came in my arse.

Now my pal says she won't go out with me again because she thinks she'll get a bad reputation.

What do you think?

TC, Sheffield

Sam says...
FIND a new pal.

Dear Sam,

MY mate's bird loves getting her tits out and a couple of weeks ago, knowing that I'm a keen amateur photographer, she asked if she could pose for me.

I agreed, so she came to my place and it wasn't long before she was naked and letting me snap her right up her fanny.

She's 19, blonde, with massive boobs and a cracking body, and I soon had a rock-hard cock.

Seeing that I was really turned-on, she just smiled and said: "Well, are you going to fk me, or what?"

I didn't waste any time and knobbed her twice. I left my camera on and got some great pictures of me doing her.

They were so good she agreed I could send them to an adult magazine and they were printed. But her boyfriend saw them and he's now threatening to do me a mischief.

What should I do?

HP, Cornwall

Sam says...
STICK to snapping birds with wings!

I dread telling sis about love-rat squash hubby

Dear Sam,

MY sister and her husband always seem happy and go everywhere together, except when he plays squash.

I was passing the squash club one night when I decided to call in, but I was shocked when I saw him at the bar kissing and cuddling a young blonde.

I went and sat in my car. Then my brother-in-law and the blonde came out and got into his van.

I crept over to peep in. I was appalled to see them sucking each other frantically in the 69 position before he mounted her from behind.

I quickly drove to my sister's, but she looked so happy I hadn't the heart to tell her what I'd seen.

Should I tell her that her hubby's a love-rat and risk breaking her heart?

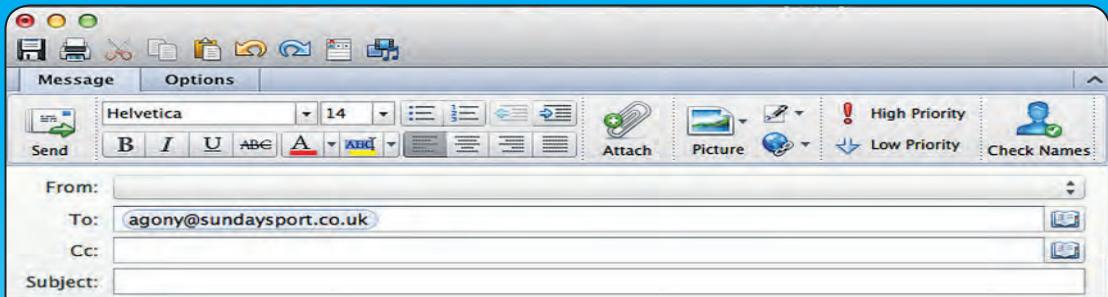

MR, Essex

Sam says...

TACKLE the cheating hubby first, but if he won't give up this girl, then you should tell your sister.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Tipsy first taste of lesbo lust was mind-blowing!

Dear Sam,

I'M a 21-year-old student and my fella has been pestering me for a while to have sex with another woman while he watches.

It started a couple of months ago when I was on a night out with my course group and one of the girls came on to me.

At first I was a little taken aback, as I have never been with a woman before – although I have sometimes fantasised about it.

But as the night wore on and I got more and more tipsy, the thought of it really began to turn me on.

And when she gave me a goodnight kiss, I was thrilled as she slipped her tongue deep inside my mouth.

Juices

It was as if the decision had been made for me and I was quite willing to go along with it.

My whole body tingled as her hands held my bum, pulling my pubic mound to hers.

The sweet taste of her mouth got my juices flowing so much that when she asked if I wanted to go back to her place, I didn't hesitate.

As soon as the door to her flat closed behind us she quickly lifted my top, removed my bra and sucked and licked on my erect nipples as her hands fumbled with my zipper.

We moved into the living room, where she pushed me back on the sofa and pulled down my jeans and panties to leave me totally naked. I couldn't believe how wonderful it felt as she slowly spread my thighs and began fingering my pussy lips.

Then she leaned forward and teased my clit with her red-hot tongue.

Within minutes I was experiencing the most powerful orgasm of my life.

I've never been what purveyors of left-field 'grot' flicks would call "squirtier" – and I still don't think I can truly count myself among their moist ranks – but the wetness of my womanhood was something to behold at that lusty moment.

Then it was the turn of my sapphic sex buddy. I felt nervous as she slipped off her clothes right in front of me.

But as she revealed more of her gorgeous body, it seemed natural to pleasure her in the same way she had pleased me.

My first taste of pussy was truly amazing. I flicked my hungry tongue across her fleshy petals time and time again, before locating her clitoris and going to work on that with some relish.

After she'd had a loud orgasm, we spent the rest of the night licking, sucking and fing each other – and have done several more times since.

She's even done me up the wrong 'un with a strap-on.

But I made the mistake of telling my fella and he was angry – not for me cheating on him, but because I didn't let him watch.

Should I?

DN, Nottingham

Sam says...

DON'T be pushed into accommodating his sexual fantasies if it's not something that you feel comfortable about.

Dear Sam,

I'D never had sex in a car before last week – and now I'm wondering if I was right to have done it.

I'm not a snob, though being an only daughter means my well-off father has made sure I've been pampered.

I've had three fellas before and, though the sex was unexciting, it always took place at my home when my parents were away, so a degree of comfort was assured.

My latest boyfriend, though, attracted me because he's a bit rough and ready and even looks dangerous.

After taking me for a drink at a rough pub, he drove me to a quiet wooded area and we started kissing.

Soon we were very hot for it and he had my knickers off and his fingers probing me.

I felt so ungainly as he hoisted my legs over his shoulders in the cramped car and entered me with an assured rhythm.

I climaxed with a passion I'd rarely experienced, and he came thickly inside me soon after.

When we'd done, though, my expensive clothes were all crumpled, I was sticky and I couldn't find my undies anywhere.

Have I been undignified?

BW, Berks

Sam says...

OH yes! Great, wasn't it?

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

The 32G cracker from Romford, Essex, explained: "He was really reluctant to do that. Blokes are funny about having their arses toyed with – I think they reckon it will hurt or something.

"But when they want to do something to your bum, it's always 'Nah baby, don't worry, this won't hurt a bit'.

"Luckily, my man doesn't have a problem with me though – because I love a finger up MY arse during sex!"

NEW BALLS: Rory McIlroy

McIlroy happy to fiddle with balls

RORY McIlroy believes "elite pros" and equipment makers are to blame for an expected rule change which will reduce how far golf balls travel.

Golf's governing bodies announced in March the proposal of a Model Local Rule (MLR) to give tournaments the option to require the use of balls which travel around 15 yards less.

R&A chief executive Martin Slumbers and USGA counterpart Mike Whan confirmed that the MLR would apply in their own elite events, most notably the Open and US Open.

McIlroy and Tiger Woods spoke out in support of the proposal but it was opposed by the PGA Tour and strongly criticised by manufacturing company Acushnet and former world number one Justin Thomas, who plays their Titleist balls.

In response to what Slumbers termed "very strong pushback", the R&A and USGA are now understood to be on the verge of announcing a revision to the way balls are tested, which will make current versions non-conforming and require shorter balls.

Golf Digest say it will apply at the elite level from 2028, but also for recreational players from 2030.

McIlroy said: "I don't understand the anger about the golf ball roll back."

"It will make no difference whatsoever to the average golfer and puts golf back on a path of sustainability. It will also help bring back certain skills in the pro game that have been eradicated over the past two decades."

"The people who are upset about this decision shouldn't be mad at the governing bodies, they should be mad at elite pros and manufacturers."

"You think we play the same stuff you do? They put pressure on the governing bodies to roll it back to a lesser degree for everyone."

"I don't believe an average golfer giving up five or 10 yards off the tee is going to have a material effect on their actual score, handicap or enjoyment of the game."

CRICKET – ANOTHER 50-OVER

JOS A BOSS BOSS

Rehan Ahmed defends his under-fire skipper

REHAN Ahmed defended Jos Buttler's captaincy following criticism of his tactical acumen by Sir Alastair Cook after England started their tour of the Caribbean on a losing note.

Several of Buttler's decisions were scrutinised during a calamitous World Cup defence and England's new era in ODIs made a false start as they were beaten by a Shai Hope-inspired West Indies on Sunday.

Having been strangled by spin duo Ahmed and Liam Livingstone, the Windies needed 101 in the last nine overs but they feasted on England's pace bowlers to win with four wickets and seven balls to spare.

Cook, the former England captain and their record Test run-scorer, wondered whether Buttler could have juggled his resources better during the Windies' successful chase and deployed Will Jacks' off-spin in the middle overs to take the pressure off the seamers at the death.

By PAUL THOMAS

But 19-year-old leg-spinner Ahmed said: "Jos is an unbelievable captain. It's just his call."

"We were in a great position by the end of it. It wasn't like there was bad decisions throughout the game."

Lean

"I don't think you can put anything down to Jacksy not bowling. I felt like we were always in the game even right to the end."

"We just didn't execute at the end. We were always still in the game."

Buttler's lean patch with the bat also continued at the weekend after being dismissed for three, his fifth single figure score in eight innings while he is averaging 14.1 since the start of the World Cup.

Ahmed said: "Every time I bowl to him in the nets, he smacks me everywhere. Some people can be short of runs sometimes but he's still Jos Buttler."

"He's probably the best white-ball player I've bowled to."

Sam Curran felt the full might of the Windies' power hitting as he leaked 98 from 9.5 overs and the most expensive ODI figures by an England bowler came with the extra indignity of being pummelled for three sixes in four balls as unbeaten centurion Hope got his side over the line.

Curran's fortunes have nosedived since being named player of the tournament in England's triumphant T20 World Cup campaign last year.

Dropped after three innocuous showings at the 50-over World Cup – averaging 11.66 and 70 with bat and ball respectively – the 25-year-old made an important 38 off 26 balls at the weekend, although that was overshadowed by what followed.

Ahmed, who was the pick of England's attack with two for 40, has backed Curran to demonstrate his resilience in the second ODI of the three-match series today.

He said: "After losing a game and if you've been hit around then I don't think you'll be very happy with it."

Trade

"The thing is, Sam is an unbelievable player – everyone knows he is as well, so I'm sure the next game he'll probably get a five-for, he'll be good."

It is understood Ahmed's younger brother Farhan will be selected on Tuesday in England's squad for the Under-19 World Cup, which is set to be held in South Africa from

CALAMITY FOR ENGLAND

STRUGGLE: England's one-day form has been poor since Buttler took the reins

January 13 to February 4 next year.

The 15-year-old is an off-spinner by trade and although his elder sibling cracked a couple of jokes at his expense, there is the prospect of two Ahmeds in an England side in the future.

Ahmed joked: "He bowls a lot of dot balls so he'll be quite boring and I don't expect (him to hit) too many sixes."

"But no, I'm very happy for him, he's very young and he's been picked for such a big thing here."

"He's quite exciting for an off-spinner, which is quite surprising. But I think he'll go well. I'm very chuffed for him."

"I play with my older brother and younger brother and dad in club cricket and it's the best ever feeling."

"As many of us that can play together it's always going to be good."

"Whether it's for England for county for school for a club, anything. Playing alongside family is always a great feeling."

Butler himself admits he needs to score more runs to help the team.

He has delivered a single-figure score five times in his past eight ODIs.

He said: "I feel good, I just keep managing to get out."

"It's disappointing, frustrating and gone on for a lot longer than I would have liked but there's only myself who can score my own runs."

"I'm not going to score any if I hide away and don't get out there. You keep working hard, you keep putting the effort in and trust that it will turn around."

Grand Mission still up in the air for Mahler

By DON FRANCOME

A DECISION on whether Coral Gold Cup runner-up Mahler Mission will be aimed at the Randox Grand National has yet to be made following his fine effort in defeat at Newbury on Saturday.

Having looked the likely winner of the National Hunt Chase at last season's Cheltenham Festival before falling two fences from home, the seven-year-old made a promising return when second at Carlisle last month, teeing him up for an appearance in one of the year's most prestigious handicaps.

Mahler Mission travelled powerfully and fenced fluently for much of the three-and-a-quarter-mile journey before being reeled in by the patiently ridden Datsalrightgino up the home straight.

While proud of his stable star's performance, John McConnell was left wondering what might have been after admitting his preparation was not entirely trouble-free, while the fact he finished without his two front shoes could not have been a help.

Excuses

McConnell said: "Overall, we were delighted, he ran a great race and just got beaten by one on the day."

"We were very happy with him and we've got plenty to look forward to later this season."

"He travelled very well and it looked like he got outstayed nearly in the end."

"We didn't have the clearest of runs up to it, so maybe he was a little bit short, but I'm not going to make excuses - when you're second in a race like that, it's great."

"People forget that was only his seventh run over fences, so it was definitely a big deal."

Mahler Mission is a 16-1 joint-favourite for the Grand National with Paddy Power, but he is not yet certain to make the trip to Aintree in April.

TRAINER: McConnell

"I have to talk to the owners and see what they want to do," McConnell added.

"Obviously, the National has been talked about a lot and if that's going to be a target, we'll have to sit down and work back from that."

"It's obviously a major race and it would be a part of it, but at the same time you're kind of sacrificing your season nearly to set yourself up for it, so it's a hard call."

"I'll have to speak to the owners and see what they're thinking."

"With the mark he has, you'd like to take advantage of it, so if we were going to go down that road, we wouldn't want to be any higher (in the handicap) than we are and that would frame our whole season."

"We're just not sure if we're going to aim for that yet."

"On Saturday, we didn't really discuss it, we were just happy for him to have run so well."

Mahler Mission holds an entry in the Paddy Power Chase at Leopardstown on December 27, but he appears unlikely to line up in that lucrative contest if the National is confirmed as his major target.

"Again, it depends on the route we're going to take. The Paddy Power itself is a good race with plenty of prize-money on offer, so it is an option," said McConnell.

WHISPERING SHOUTS LOUD

SOME powerful yards are set to do battle in the BetMGM Winter Oaks Trial Irish EBF Fillies' Handicap at Lingfield and Whispering Words catches the eye for Charlie Appleby.

Godolphin's well-bred daughter of Dubawi went into many notebooks after getting no luck in running when fifth in a competitive Newmarket contest in early October.

She has had a little break since that promising handicap bow but can prove worth the wait.

Whispering Words showed she goes well fresh when edging out subsequent scorers Doom and Purple Love at headquarters back in August on her three-year-old debut.

We also know she handles an artificial surface from when a neck second behind Venus Rosewater at Kempton seven weeks later - after another troubled passage.

On all known evidence, 10 furlongs looks to be her optimum trip and any amount of improvement is still possible.

Fair Point is another with plenty of scope who appeals in division two of the Boost Your Acca At BetMGM/EBF Fillies' Novice Stakes.

Her full-sister Tribalist is a multiple Group-class winner in France and this Ralph Beckett-trained juvenile looks sure to uphold family honour judged on her first racecourse outing.

Sent off favourite for a Newmarket novice event, she was in front at the furlong pole before just fading back into third and can be expected to strip fitter for that effort.

Zaman Jemil raced as though a return to seven furlongs would suit when fourth at Chelmsford recently and gets that trip in the Best Racing Odds Guaranteed At BetMGM Handicap.

Headway

A comfortable scorer at Newcastle on his only previous all-weather outing, Harry and Roger Charlton's three-year-old is on a fair mark and fancied to do well this winter.

There is a typically competitive card at Kempton but Honest Desire stands out in the Unibet More Extra Place Races Nursery Handicap.

The Godolphin juvenile had a lot to do from a bad draw here last month but made notable late headway from the back to finish just three lengths down in sixth.

Previously a good second to Neapolitan at the same venue, the gelded son of Frankel deserves another chance to show his true worth.

Vino Victrix was not unfancied for the Cesarewitch and has a good course record at Kempton, so he has each-way claims in the Unibet London Stayers' Series (Final) Handicap.

Overtherhumps at Haydock, Spirits Bay is rated a solid selection for the Trustatrader Approved And Reviewed Tradespeople Introductory Hurdle.

The five-year-old was a dual bumper winner for Nigel Twiston-Davies last term and lost nothing in defeat on his hurdling bow at Sandown when he caught a tartan in Nicky Henderson's Southoftheborder, coming home nicely clear of the rest.

Good Boy Bobby has been rejuvenated by switching to senior citizen races this term, scoring at Chepstow and Sandown, so he is worth sticking with in the Trustatrader.com Veterans' Handicap Chase.

Greyval gets the nod in Ludlow's feature race, the EK Mowers & Machinery Mares' Handicap Hurdle.

Fergal O'Brien's four-year-old faced a tough test on her seasonal reappearance at Ascot but is of more interest here on last term's strikes at Doncaster and Huntingdon.

267 MATCHES ON THE BOX...
WITH UP TO FIVE ON A SUNDAY

SKY SPORTS will screen a minimum of 215 Premier League matches a season as part of a domestic rights agreement worth a record £6.7billion.

The broadcaster secured four of the five packages on offer in the league's latest domestic rights tender which starts in 2025-26, with TNT Sports netting the other package of 52 games.

Amazon, who show 20 matches per season under the league's current deal, have not secured rights for the new domestic cycle which runs through to the end of the 2028-29 season.

Cycle

The Premier League said the value of the agreements being announced, which also cover non-live rights, was £6.7billion, the largest sports media rights deal in UK history.

The current live TV deal, which runs through to 2024-25, has been reported to be worth £5billion over the three-year cycle. Sky's new deal means it will screen up to 100 matches a season more than it currently does, the broadcaster said.

It keeps hold of the key Super Sunday 4.30pm slot and will broadcast all 10 final-day matches for the first time.

TNT's deal means it retains the 12.30pm Saturday slot and full coverage of two midweek match rounds. For the first time, all matches outside of those scheduled for 3pm Saturday will be screened live. That could mean five games on a Sunday when the Europa League is in full swing.

A debate is ongoing about whether the blackout of TV coverage in the 3pm slot should be lifted for the first time.

TNT's deal means it retains the 12.30pm Saturday slot and full coverage of two women's game which would be controversial and could affect attendances in lower leagues.

Match of the Day remains the home for highlights of all 380 Premier League matches for the four seasons of the new cycle.

That's good news for people who don't fork out for Sky.

The Premier League's chief executive Richard Masters said: "We are delighted to announce new deals with Sky Sports and TNT Sports that will extend our partnership for a further four years and see more Premier League matches than ever before shown live from 2025/26 onwards."

Highlights

"As long-standing and valued partners, Sky Sports and TNT Sports are renowned for consistently delivering world-class coverage and programming."

"We have enjoyed record audiences and attendances in recent seasons, and we know that their continued innovation will drive more people to watch

THIS WEEK IN SPORT HISTORY

- 1863: The first rules of association football were published in Bell's Life.
- 1908: Sunderland scored eight goals in the last 28 minutes – five of them in the last eight – to run out 9-1 winners in their First Division north-east derby against Newcastle.
- 1928: England beat Australia by a record 675 runs in the Brisbane Test. The tourists made 521 all out and 324 for eight declared, and Australia's replies totalled 122 and 66.
- 1931: There were no corner kicks – and no goals – in Newcastle's First Division match against Portsmouth at St James' Park.
- 1960: Southampton's Derek Reeves became the first man to score five goals in a League Cup match, against Leeds.
- 2006: Shane Warne took four wickets for 49 runs as England collapsed to 129 all out and lost the second Test against Australia in Adelaide by six wickets.
- 2008: Honda announced they would pull out of Formula One unless a buyer was found by the end of the month. A management buy-out eventually led to the formation of the Brawn GP team, which won the constructors' and drivers' championships with Jenson Button the following year.
- 2009: Amir Khan made a successful first defence of his WBA light-welterweight title with a first-round victory against the previously unbeaten Dmitry Salita in Newcastle.
- 2012: Frankie Dettori was suspended from riding for six months after being found guilty of taking a prohibited substance.
- 2012: Chelsea became the first Champions League holders to crash out of the competition before Christmas after failing to reach the last 16 despite a 6-1 win over FC Nordsjælland. The Blues finished third in Group E, although they would later go on to win the Europa League.
- 2017: Russia were banned from the 2018 Winter Olympics after a doping investigation. The International Olympic Committee announced Russian athletes proven to be innocent of doping offences would be allowed to compete in a neutral capacity.
- 2019: Hollie Doyle won her 107th race of the year, a record for a female jockey in a calendar year in Britain, on Class Clown at Southwell.
- 2020: Harry Kane scored his 200th goal for Tottenham in his 300th game for the club – a 3-1 win at Ludogorets in the Europa League.
- 2022: Warren Gatland returned as Wales rugby union coach, replacing Wayne Pivac.

GUNNERS READY FOR RAM RAID

Arteta can't rule out a Newcastle swoop for wantaway goalkeeper

MIKEL Arteta insists he wants to keep Aaron Ramsdale – but refused to rule out the England goalkeeper leaving Arsenal in January.

Ramsdale lost his position as Arteta's first-choice goalkeeper earlier this season following the arrival of David Raya on loan from Brentford.

Since September 3, Ramsdale has made just three appearances – two of which came in the Carabao Cup, with his one Premier League game in that time coming with Raya ineligible against the Bees.

With his place at Euro 2024 in the balance as he continues to warm the bench at the Emirates Stadium, Ramsdale's future is seemingly up in the air.

Arteta recently urged Ramsdale to be patient over any decision, saying the situation could look very different in March.

By PAUL THOMAS

A shoulder injury to England colleague Nick Pope, however, could see Newcastle in the market for another goalkeeper in January.

Asked if he would be open to selling Ramsdale to Newcastle, Arteta replied: "I want Aaron with us."

"I am very happy to have two very, very good goalkeepers and Aaron is staying with us."

"We want to be better, so we want to add to what we already have. That's the intention that we have."

But, when pushed on whether he would categorically rule out a January switch for Ramsdale, the Spaniard added: "I won't do that to any player. Any player."

"I cannot tell you that any Arsenal player is not going to leave in January. Or he is to stay here for the next three years."

"I won't say that no player is going to go to Newcastle."

"Or no member of the staff either. I won't say it. If you say yes or no, I won't say it."

"I cannot guarantee that nobody is going to be leaving in January. For Newcastle or any other club. So it is a no."

Thrilling

Arteta also insists he is not interested in what happens at title rivals Manchester City – either on or off the pitch.

The Gunners sit two points clear at the top of the Premier League after their narrow 2-1 win over Wolves on Saturday.

Liverpool are their nearest challengers as City were held to a draw for the third league game in a row – with Tottenham sealing a thrilling share of the spoils at the Etihad Stadium on Sunday.

Defending champions City will still be in the shake-up come the end of the season and pipped Arsenal to the title last season en route to winning the treble.

Asked if he has seen a drop-off from that City side that swatted away all comers last year, Arteta replied: "I don't look at those things. I have enough looking at my team right now."

"I think about how we're going to play better tomorrow and be more consistent and be more difficult to beat and the things that we need to tweak and how we can use our players in the best possible ways to win. It's still a huge marathon ahead of us."

The encouragement comes from watching the team play, watching them behave every day and how hungry and willing they are to

TOP OF THE PREMIER LEAGUE

FROZEN OUT: Arteta has made it clear that Ramsdale is his No2 approach every training session.

"That's what gives me encouragement. What the others do is something that we cannot control."

Arteta was also name-checked by friend and former colleague Pep Guardiola in the aftermath of City's 3-3 draw with Spurs.

Disgrace

Guardiola refused to be drawn on the decision of Simon Hooper not to play an advantage late in the game as City broke through on goal – saying he would “not do a Mikel Arteta comment”.

It was a clear reference to former City assistant Arteta, who is still awaiting the outcome of a Football Association charge after he labelled the decision of VAR to award Anthony Gordon's goal in a recent 1-0 loss to Newcastle as “embarrassing” and “a disgrace”.

“On to the next one (question) please,” Arteta replied when asked about Guardiola’s jibe.

Asked if he was aware of the sort of mind-games Premier League managers have utilised in the past, he added: “If I am good at mind games, maybe you don’t notice.”

Gunners midfielder Jorginho believes his team’s attackers like Bukayo Saka and Gabriel Jesus can bring them trophies this season.

He said: “These type of players they find space, they find lines, they create and that’s their individual qualities.

“We are so happy to have them because they can decide games and that’s what they have been doing.”

More stars than ever seeing red

CONOR Gallagher’s red card in Chelsea’s win over Brighton on Sunday was the 31st in this season’s Premier League – already more than the whole of last season.

Here, Weekend Sport looks at how the two seasons compare to Premier League history.

DIRTY THIRTY

Gallagher’s was the second red card of the weekend, following Sheffield United striker Oli McBurnie’s second of the season in Saturday’s defeat to Burnley.

Thirty players have seen red this campaign, with 14 clubs having experienced at least one dismissal – Aston Villa, Brentford, Crystal Palace, Luton, Manchester United and Newcastle are the exceptions.

Liverpool are the worst offenders with four red cards, though Alexis Mac Allister’s against Bournemouth was overturned on appeal. Virgil van Dijk, Diogo Jota and Curtis Jones are their other culprits.

Gallagher became the third Chelsea player sent off this season, joining Malo Gusto and Reece James and moving them alongside Burnley, Tottenham and Wolves.

Last season saw 29 Premier League players sent off, with Man United midfielder Casemiro the only repeat offender. Wolves’ six, for Nelson Semedo, Mario Lemina, Jonny, Nathan Collins, Diego Costa and Matheus Nunes, were twice as many as any other club.

OVER-CORRECTION

There were only 17 straight reds last season, the fewest in the Premier League era, while the overall total was the lowest since the 28 shown in 1993-94.

While an increase was always likely, this season’s average of one red card every 4.5 games means the top flight is on course for 84 over the course of the season.

That would comfortably

OVERTURNED: Mac Allister

be a new record, beating the 75 shown in the 2005-06 season.

That campaign brought red cards for all 20 teams, and more than one for all bar Portsmouth. Eleven teams had four or more, topped by Blackburn and Everton with seven apiece. A 76th red card initially shown to Newcastle’s Jermaine Jenas against Arsenal was rescinded after referee Steve Bennett reviewed his own decision, with no need for a formal appeal.

Before last season, the total had been in the 40s for four years in succession – and before that, over 50 every season as far back as 1997-98.

GOALS GALORE

Another statistic on the rise this season is the most important in football – goals.

With Burnley’s 5-0 win over Blades followed on Sunday by Liverpool and Chelsea winning 4-3 and 3-2 respectively and a 3-3 draw between Manchester City and Tottenham, there have now been 442 goals in 140 matches this season.

That average of 3.16 per game would, if sustained over the full season, be the highest in Premier League history – beating the record of 2.85 set last season.

The 1,084 goals scored on that occasion were a record for a 20-team season, with this season currently on track for 1,200.

NEW HOME FOR SCOTS

STEVE Clarke wants a top-end Scotland training complex as he prepares for Euro 2024 in Germany. The men's national team moved from their base in Oriam, Scotland's Sports Performance Centre, to Glasgow earlier in the year, with coach John Carver criticising the pitches at Heriot-Watt University. Clarke is happy about the latest move to Lesser Hampden and a city centre hotel.

Clarke said: 'Oriam was the venue that I was asked to use. It was fine. Initially it served its purpose. We had some really good camps at the Oriam, some great results, some great moments.'

'But after a period of time you think, 'OK, this is a little bit tired, we are a bit tired of this place and we need to change.'

'To be fair to the (SFA) board, as soon as I began to ask for change, they were on it. They understood what I was trying to say to them.'

United already keen to cut losses on calamity keeper

By JOHN ANTHONY

MANCHESTER UNITED are already lining up a replacement for goalkeeper Andre Onana.

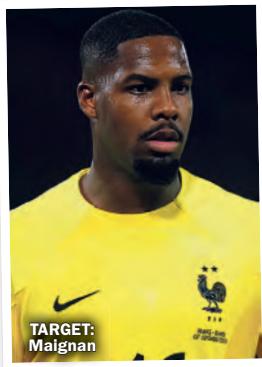

The stopper has endured a torrid time since his £47m summer move from Inter Milan to Old Trafford.

Boss Erik Ten Hag wanted him to replace David De Gea and knew him from their time together at Ajax.

But it has been one spectacular error after another from the Cameroon international since his arrival at the Red Devils.

His latest calamities have put United on the brink of being eliminated from all European competition, not just the Champions League.

And it seems that Ten Hag is starting to realise that he made a mistake in signing Onana – despite calling him the "second-best" keeper in the Premier League.

TARGET:
Maignan

AC Milan No1 Mike Maignan is the man they want to replace him but he won't come cheap with Chelsea and Bayern Munich also in the hunt.

The 28-year-old has come to the fore after some excellent performances for the Italians and he's staking a claim to be France's No1 for the Euros next summer.

United could use the likes of Raphael Varane and Casemiro in part-exchange to persuade Milan to let one of their prized assets leave the San Siro in January.

Maignan is valued around the £60m mark which isn't beyond them given new part-owner Jim Ratcliffe will be injecting cash for new players when the window opens in January.
